

Hybrid Joint Annual Conference 2025: An Invitation to Sponsors and Exhibitors

California's premiere educational conference for the Child Care Resource and Referral and Alternative Payment Program field will be held both in-person, October 15-17, 2025 AND virtually, November 5-6, 2025. The California Child Care Resource & Referral Network (R&R Network) and Thriving Families CA (TFC) Foundation will be joining forces once again to build our capacity to impact the communities we serve all across the state. We invite you to take advantage of this special event to support early childhood education and promote your company and products at our joint conference. With two formats, we look forward to more opportunities with our conference partners.

There are a variety of ways to sponsor The Hybrid Joint Annual Conference or show your support. Whether you are interested in one of our many sponsorship opportunities, purchasing ad space in the Conference program or hosting an exhibit booth to showcase new products or launch promotions, there will be ample opportunity for your company to be recognized as a contributor to the early learning and child care field and for you to build visibility and connect with senior management and key decision makers.

Research has shown that high quality early care and education experiences make a difference in children's lifelong academic and social success. In addition, child care helps support parents as they work, attend school, or engage in training programs. By participating in our joint conference, you are demonstrating your support for California's children and their families, and will be able to make a connection with a significant number of leaders in the early childhood and education community.

Highlights for this year's program include:

- 950 people from across the state are expected to attend this conference, including line staff, managers, directors and executive directors of agencies. 450 will be in-person and 500 will be virtual.
- Opportunities for both in-person, as well as virtual participation. In-person exhibitors will receive a virtual booth for free!
- 5 Dynamic keynote speakers and over 80 exciting workshops between the two formats.
- Ample opportunities to meet Resource & Referral, Alternative Payment professionals and other stakeholders in the early learning and child care and development community.
- The Virtual Conference Platform will be available to access until midnight on December 5th. This is an opportunity for sponsors and exhibitors to live on for 1 whole month post-conference.

Attached are the sponsorship opportunities that we ask you to consider. Please contact Danielle Metzger at (916) 567-6797 or danielle@thrivingfamilies-ca.org with any questions.

Sincerely,

Linda Asato
Executive Director, CCCRRN
