Emergency Planning Guide Emergency plan for: Find an attorney or accredited representative who will help you in the event of an emergency. Make sure to speak with the attorney or accredited representative. Do not just write down the phone number without making sure the person will be able to help you. Get screened by an attorney or accredited representative to determine if you are eligible for another immigration status. Register with your local consulate. Register and form a relationship with your church, parish or other religious or community center. □ Make a family plan about what to do in the event a family member is arrested, detained or goes missing. · Decide who will be called and in what order. . In some states, the law requires you to give your name to the police. Find out whether you are required to provide your name in your state. Make a plan about what you will do if you are asked your name. Consider that not giving your name could cause you to be arrested or detained. Not giving your name could make it difficult or impossible for your family to locate you in detention or police custody. Speak to an attorney about what to do in your unique situation. □ Make copies of all immigration and other important papers for all members of the family. Keep them in a safe place. Make sure a trusted friend, family member that does not live with you or member of the community knows where you keep these papers or make a set of copies for them to keep. Important papers: Work authorization · Copies of identification Passports · Copies of any other immigration papers, including receipt notices for any pending cases and approval notices for family petitions · Birth certificates (with English translations) Marriage certificates (with English translations) Social Security cards Documents related to criminal arrests or cases · Name and contact information for attorneys who have represented you in the past · Other important information such as a list of medications family members take
